We build the essence of community each day in every classroom touching all of our students. We know that no meaningful learning can happen unless students feel safe. MS. SAIMA

There are multiple benefits of collaborative teams versus individuals working independently. We notice an increase in creativity due to the sharing of different ideas, experiences and expertise. Every employee brings a certain body of skills and knowledge to the group. Shared knowledge and complementary skills are strong tools to be used to handle complex projects and assignments. The more the team talks about a project, the more ideas are generated. Having the perspective of several colleagues trumps the individual having only one set of ideas.
